

Certified Nature Stewards Program

Being a Certified Nature Steward means you're dedicated to helping nature on your land!

You'll join an exceptional community of landowners from the Fraser Valley who are all working hard to support our local habitats and wildlife.

What is the Certified Nature Stewards Program?

The Certified Nature Stewards Program is a pledge program. We'll meet with you to find out what your goals are for helping nature on your property. Together, we'll create a plan of activities that you can commit to. This will lead to your personalized pledge agreement to guide you on your journey.

This program is a free voluntary stewardship program supported by Environment and Climate Change Canada.

What do Certified Nature Stewards Get?

- A frameable Certified Nature Stewards certificate recognizing your participation.
- A personalized Stewardship Agreement that outlines your pledge commitments.
- A report about your property that includes recommendations to refer to when caring for nature on your land.
- Bi-annual program email newsletters with stewardship tips, stories, and news.
- Invitations to stewardship workshops.
- A metal program plaque to display in your yard.

What do I have to do to be a Certified Nature Steward?

This program is all about you taking action to support nature on your property. Once you've met with our knowledgeable team, you'll have the tools to understand the needs of nature on your property, tips on how to take action, and who to reach out to for more support. You will be expected to honour and implement the terms of your pledge for the next five years.

How do you become a Certified Nature Steward?

It all starts by the filling out our online form with your nature questions. We require that Certified Nature Stewards are either the landowner of the property or a tenant with permission from the landowner. We will follow up your enquiry to ask more questions and see how we can best support you to care for your land.
